at last we have a game that uses the power of the 1080ti . nice graphics good game play . fast scary zombies running at you from all over the place . pretty scary. overall 8/10. Zombie Kill is a gorgeous game. The graphics are sweet and nice but that doesn't amount to anything when the game is boring as hell and the gun sounds are all the same.

The gun sounds- every gun, the assault rifle, the M9 and the .44 Magnum are all the same sound. There is no difference between them and that is lazy as hell.

The Modes- there are three modes to the game. Easy modes basically is where you have to kill 100 zombies, normal is 200 and hard is 300 ranked. 300 Ranked is to see how far you can get before dying but it won't matter because you have unlimited ammo.

Forced Dual Wielding- why are players forced to dual wield the weapons? That's amazing players over powered as hell and also allowing auto-reload.

Reloading Mechanic- the reload is just pushing the top button and the guns reload automatically...why give zombie players a challenge. Make them reload the guns manually.

Zombies- the zombies are jump scary worthy if you're not paying attention but their A.I. is so predictable that players don't even have to aim down sights.

Maps- there are two maps but the second map is the same map but without the building, so basically your outside...that is super lazy. There was no point to the second map at all if it's just a reskin of the first one.

I am sorry but this game got boring quickly and is too easy even on the hardest difficulty. The game is basically good on graphics but everything else it fails hardcore. Zombie Kill gets a 2/10. It would have gotten a 1/10 but the inter mission jump scare kept it from being 1. I can't recommend this game.

That's the pony review. the game looks good and was very fun for me until the spider faces showed up im glad i use the safety straps
